

E-Teaching Certificate – Focus: International

Designing international distance learning

The E-Teaching Certificate – Focus: International allows teachers to acquire skills in digitally supported, international teaching.

The program supports teachers at the FernUniversität to plan and implement international teaching/learning formats in distance learning.

- Get to know the most important technologies, tools and techniques of digital (distance) teaching
- Implement a teaching project together with international partners, such as a summer/winter school, excursion or seminar
- Expand your intercultural skills and make valuable international contacts
- Do you need financial support? Find out about funding opportunities through the FernUniversität's Internationalization Fund!

The program concludes with the award of a certificate.
