Partner Jones Day, Duesseldorf, Germany

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Prof Dr Paul Melot de Beauregard is a partner of the international law firm Jones Day in Duesseldorf, Germany.

He has over twenty years of experience in advising clients in aspects of national and international labour and employment law. This includes negotiations with unions and works councils as well as respective litigation. He holds an LL.M degree in labour law from the London School of Economics and Political Science as well as a PhD from the University of Wuerzburg.

Prof Dr de Beauregard is an honorary professor at FernUniversitaet in Hagen and teaches German and European labour and employment law. He has recently published books on manager liability and manager compensation.

ABOUT THE PUBLIC LECTURE

The public lecture offers in the first part an extensive overview of the different levels of labour and employment law within the EU and its member states as well as at an international level. It will become clear that approaches differ from level to level and that a common idea of human rights develops only over time.

In its second part, the lecture will address particular legal questions in connection with the recent EU legislation on human rights in the supply chain and its consequences for companies within the EU as well as employees outside the EU.

Moreover, different legal concepts on EU and national level aimed at fighting sexual harassment at the workplace will be discussed. Finally, an overview will be given of the EU principles on employee data privacy and the risk for employers to treat person-related data. For any enquiries, please contact:
